Class of 1966

Attleboro High School
Attleboro, Massachusetts

Dedication

MR. JAMES B. MILES

To be selected as an individual who has captured the respect and admiration of the entire graduating class is indeed an honor.

Patience, self-control and a willingness to recognize, with sincere interest, the potential of each student are only a few of the many qualities possessed by this person. In his English classes he has encouraged us to think for ourselves, to question the obvious, to dare to be different.

In true appreciation for all you have done to make each of us realize the true meaning of individuality, we proudly dedicate this yearbook to you, Mr. James B. Miles.

Foreword

During our past three years at Attleboro High School, we have spent most of our time in gaining knowledge as well as experience in leadership and co-operating with others. There have been many different activities offered to help us achieve these goals. Each activity has many different symbols of the enjoyment, learning, and responsibility found within that activity. These different symbols have helped guide us through our high school years and will continue to guide us in the future.

In this yearbook we have tried to present all the symbols of the many wonderful experiences we have had during our three years at Attleboro High School because these years have prepared us for adulthood and have made us willing to face the future without fear.

The shield found on the cover of this yearbook is one of the symbols engraved on our class ring. Each figure found within the shield has a definite meaning. The owl represents "The Blue Owl," Attleboro High's first literary magazine. The lyre symbolizes Apollo, the god of music and poetry, both fine arts to be appreciated. The book and plume represent scholastic achievement. The triangle represents our three years at Attleboro High School and the wheel is a wheel of progress, our foremost ambition throughout life.

MARIE WOLL

Marie Woll was our summer exchange student to Colombia, South America. The best way her experience can be related is in her own words:

"On May 28th I received news that I would be one of the nine American Field Service exchange students to Colombia, South America. During the ten weeks, I was a teenage ambassador, spreading good will, friendliness, and understanding to our Latin Neighbors. I lived in Cali, Colombia and despite the extreme poverty and problems, I always found the Colombian people warm, gracious, optimistic, and friendly. Many times, the summer was difficult and challenging, but living and sharing ideas and customs with the Colombian people was really the only way to truly spread peace and understanding."

Because of the work of the American Field Service Club, another foreign student has been able to attend Attleboro High School.

Graduating with the class of 1966 is Karl Kurbel. Born in Geislingen, Germany, Karl later moved to his present home in Ulm, a town about twenty miles from his birthplace. After finishing four years of elementary work. Karl attended the "gymnasium," a nine-year course corresponding to the American high school. After the first four years, a German student may either go to middle school, or continue five more years in the elementary, or matriculate to the "gymnasium." Karl was in the eighth grade at the latter institution before coming to Attleboro.

Karl was one of four chosen from a total of 36 who applied to the German affiliate of the A.F.S. He came by plane to the United States, arriving at Kennedy Airport in New York. He came to Boston by bus, where he was met by his American "family", the Nelsons, of 37 Prospect Street. Karl will remain in Attleboro until early July. Later in the month, he and other A.F.S. students will take a three week bus tour of the United States, after which Karl will return to Germany.

We, the class of '66, extend to Karl Kurbel our best wishes and we hope his stay in the United States has been most enjoyable.

Having a good time, Paula?

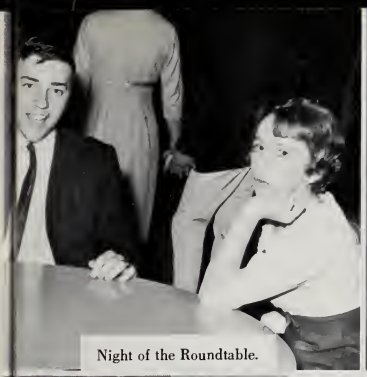
What a motley group!

Give Us an "A".

Open your eyes, Jerr-ama and Donna-ma.

Surprise!

Like that new friend!



Night of the Roundtable.

You're Killing my Hand!

The money goes to my vacation.

Good floorshow, eh???

International Discotheque

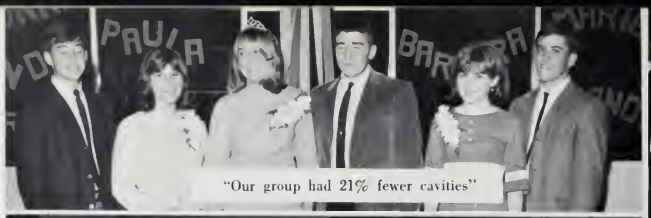
The faculty frolic!!!

Double Trouble

Put on your shoes, then I'll dance.

Behind you, Barry!!

"I don't Believe it!"



"Our group had 21% fewer cavities"

Victory Dance

"Hi, Jeannie"

"Ruth and Grace"

"Bristow, move your hand"

"Smile, Michelle"

"Happy, Marie?"

"I Can do anything you can do better!"

"Don't fall asleep, Sally"

Roman Mardi Gras

Whaddya know, Gary.

Shocking, huh, George?

Gimme a little kiss.

Ain't I great?

Mr. Bray is the guy to bribe.

I'm beginning to feel this in my back muscles.

Play it, cool, Greg.

Balloons are fascinating.

Jack, you believe in girls?

Jingle Bell Jubilee

Mistletoe Starz

Protect Me!

And what do you want for Christmas?

What's cooking?

I dare you to, Sue!

Don't laugh too hard!

Smile, Jim, it's Christmas!

It was like this . . .

Cavalcade of Music

"Where are the go-go girls?"

"Look out Beatles, here we come"

"If only mother could see me now"

"Quadruple your pleasure, Quadruple your fun"

"Smile! you were great"

"How can you ignore him like that, Louise?"

Holy Go-Go!

"Peter, Paul and Mary."

Donna, it's not polite to point!

Look, I'm bigger than you are.

Watch that stuff, Jack!

The life of Riley, huh, Moose?

Be gone with ye.

Watch it—I bleed easy.

Senior Play

This year's dramatic production, "Born Yesterday", a non-musical comic satire in three acts by Garson Kanin was a new and unique experience for Attleboro High School in that it required a great deal of realistic stage movements in addition to general acting ability. Another feature of this play was its particularly fine cast. Although the cast was small, the amount of talent was abundant. Several of the character roles were filled by students who had gained acting experience in previous plays especially last year's successful musical comedy "Girl Crazy" Because of the masterful and inspiring direction of Mr. Paul S. Kelly, "Born Yesterday" was truly a tremendous success.

Boys' State

Boy's State, sponsored by the American Legion and held annually at the University of Massachusetts, offers the opportunity to the representatives of almost every high school in Massachusetts to learn the importance and complexity of the maintenance of state and local governments. Representatives are selected on the basis of scholarship and extra-curricular activities and interests. Congratulations to Bob Starzak, who was elected to the state auditorship, John Brouillard, and Roderick Rovzar!

National Merit Scholarship Letter of Commendation Winners

According to scores achieved by students on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered during the junior year, students are singled out for recognition either by letter or financial aid. Attleboro High School is extremely proud of its two National Merit Scholars. Congratulations, Susan and Robert!

Summer Studies

Attleboro High School is very fortunate to have several highly motivated scholars who continued their studies into the summer. These students attended some of the finer institutions in the United States, such as Grinnell, Goucher, Stonehill, Exeter, as well as summer institutes in France and Colombia. Best wishes for continued success in the future.

D.A.R. Good Citizen

LINDA COLMAN

The D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award is presented each year to a senior girl who is chosen by the members of her class and the faculty on the basis of her dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. Our class is proud to have Linda Colman as its D.A.R. Good Citizen for 1966. Congratulations, Linda.

Good Government Day Representatives

RODERICK ROVZAR and DONALD ALLEN

Each high school in Massachusetts elects a senior student who best displays good character and qualities of leadership to represent them on Student Government Day at the State House in Boston. Our class was proud to have Roderick Rovzar as this year's representative and Donald Allen as alternate. Congratulations.

Attleboro Trade High School

MR. HENRY MILLER—Principal

MR. CURTIS LEONARD—Assistant Principal

The primary objective of vocational education in the State of Massachusetts is to prepare persons for effective entrance into employment. While in the trade school, students spend half of their time devoted to productive shop work. Courses offered are machine shop practices, auto mechanics, basic electronics, commercial design, and graphic arts. One quarter of the students' time is spent on related subjects. In this area theory, mathematics, science, and drawing are taught. The remaining quarter of the students' time is spent on academic subjects such as English, world geography, history, and social problems.

Class History

Sophomore Year

The spirit of hard work, discipline, and rigorous educational opportunities was impressed upon us by Mr. Paul Kelley, the assistant principal, at an assembly held on our first day at Attleboro High School in September, 1963. Throughout our three years at AHS, faculty, administration, as well as guidance, have played important parts in preparing us to assume our roles in society.

Perhaps the first and most significant action of our sophomore year was the election of members of our class to the posts of student government. After the excitement of the campaigns, the following students were elected to represent our class on the Student Council: Linda Colman, John Johnson, Barbara Lawrence, Roderick Rovzar, Carleen Smith, and Julia Williams.

The officers elected to lead our class for the sophomore year were Roderick Rovzar, president; Marilyn Weiss, vice-president; Linda Colman, secretary; and Patty Young, treasurer.

Adjusting to the many activities and traditions of Attleboro High School presented a problem to us, the lowly sophomores, at first. Could we ever forget our first rally when we forgot to cheer during competition cheering? In spite of this, the Bombardiers went on to beat North on Thanksgiving Day by a score of 14-6. At the Victory Dance, we were glad to see our class well represented by Natalie Larson, the Sophomore Queen.

During an assembly held on November 22, Mr. Joyce conveyed to us the shocking news of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Texas. All students joined in mourning the loss of this young president.

As sophomores, we received our first chance to see the Tech Tourney as students of Attleboro High School. At the first game of the Tourney, however, the AHS basketball team lost the game to Sommerville.

Sophomores had their chance to participate in the many activities of the school. On April 3, sophomores performed in the Modern Dance Club show "Experiment in Rhythm". On April 24th and 25th, sophomores Nancy Solmer and Peter Mackinlay demonstrated their talent in the senior sponsored play "The Night of January 16th".

In the spring, cheering tryouts were held and three sophomores made the squad: Debbie Swanson, Marilyn Weiss, and Ellen Worrall.

Majorette tryouts were also held and sophomores Sandra Ovellette, Sue Plante, Barbara Lander, Paula Racicot, and Marie Wall were chosen to lead the band.

The end of our sophomore year was marked by the stampede of our class into Cafeteria A to order our class rings.

Junior Year

On our return as Juniors to AHS in September, we again assumed the responsibilities of our class. Elected to represent our class on the student council were Susan Graetz, Mike Bristow, Julia Williams, Barbara Lawrence, Carleen Smith, Linda Colman, William Wintringham, and Roderick Rovzar. The officers elected to lead our class for the junior year were Roderick Rovzar, president; Gerald Coren, vice-president; Linda Colman, secretary; and Patty Young, treasurer.

The sports of the junior year provided a vital part of school life. Although we had shared second place in the Bristol County League with Durfee High School throughout the season, we lost the Thanksgiving Day game to North Attleboro. At the end of the football season Dave Hardt and Frank Mareoccio were chosen co-captains for the oncoming year. At the Tech Tourney, the Bombardiers lost the second round to Sommerville. With juniors Dave Hardt and Rod Rovzar on the team, Attleboro enjoyed a good season placing first in a three way tie in Bristol County League basketball.

Again as juniors, we played a large role in maintaining the extra-curricular activities at AHS. Juniors shared in the National Honor Society sponsored Variety Show "WAHS T.V." under the direction of Mr. Francis O'Connell. In the senior play "Girl Crazy" under the direction of Mr. Paul Kelly, Jack Hanson, Sandra Peterson, and Nancy Solmer were among those juniors taking part in the play.

After much hard work on their yearbook dummy, Carla Nerney and Deborah Swanson were chosen co-editors. We knew they would do their best to make it the greatest ever.

In May, applications were passed out to those eligible for National Honor Society. Those students achieving the required standards of scholarship, leadership, character, and service were Kathy Andrews, Geraldine Brin, John Brouillard, Linda Colman, Susan Graetz, John Hanson, David LaCombe, Bob McIntyre, Peter Mackinlay, Roderick Rovzar, and Bob Starzak.

The three boys selected to represent our class at Boys' State were John Brouillard, Rod Rovzar, and Bob Starzak.

At the awards assembly held at the closing of the school session, Mr. Joyce announced that our class was now the holder of the Freeman Hall Trophy, a first in AHS history.

At graduation came the news that Kathy Andrews, a member of our class, was going to accelerate to Boston University. All the members of our class were happy to see Kathy receive the honor for making such a change.

Senior Year

On returning to AHS in September, 1965, we realized that at last the transition from lowly sophomore to mighty senior was now complete!

To the student council we elected Linda Beauregarde, Mike Bristow, Linda Colman, Gregg Carpenter, William Dunlap, Tom Faust, Susan Graetz, Barbara Lawrence, Roderick Rovzar, Julia Williams, Carlean Smith, Marilyn Weiss, and William Wintringham. Elected officers of the student council were Roderick Rovzar, president; William Wintringham, vice-president; Linda Colman, secretary; and Barbara Lawrence, treasurer.

The education of AHS students has been considerably enriched by the presence of a foreign exchange student, Karl Kurbel. This American Field Service student entered AHS from Ulm, Germany on September 8, 1965.

AHS students welcomed back Marie Woll to Attleboro High School. Marie was an AFS exchange student to Columbia during the previous summer.

Despite an excellent season of seven wins and one loss and the Bristol County Championship the AHS bombardiers lost the Thanksgiving Day game to North Attleboro. In basketball, however, the record has been equally distinguished and we anticipate success at the Tech Tourney.

Roderick Rovzar was chosen Good Government Day Representative with Don Allen serving as alternate.

Linda Colman was elected by the student body and faculty members as D.A.R. Good Citizen. A Merit Scholarship Letter of Commendation winner was Jack Hanson and Merit Scholarship finalists were Sue Graetz and Bob McIntyre.

Because of the early deadline, we are compelled to omit many of the activities and events of the senior year. We are looking forward to the Senior Play, Tech Tourney, The Senior Prom and Reception, and all the activities of our graduation.

Both socially and educationally these years at AHS have been enjoyable and profitable. We, the class of '66, can look back on our three years, rich with memories of dances, rallies, football and basketball games, plays, assemblies. Most importantly, we now feel a certain gratitude to all the teachers, administration, and guidance who have played such an important role in preparing us to assume our place in society.

Best of luck to all in the future!

Farewell

As our years at Attleboro High School come to a close, the past seems to be forever gone and the future before us. As we look back on our high school years, we find that we not only have gained new knowledge and understanding but have become young people who are more mature and responsible, qualities which cannot be symbolized by pictures alone but are reflected in our characters.

We hope that this yearbook has served as an accurate account of our three inspiring years at Attleboro High School and that it will forever be able to restore all our high school memories.

Taking five

Monkey see, monkey do

Welcome to my house

S-T-R-E-T-C-H

Having fun?

So then I said . . .

Still wearing "madras"

Caught in the act

Does Ellen really make you work that hard?

Terry came from So. Attleboro with a guitar on his knee.

We sing better in the dark

So that's where the money has been going.

You never outgrow your need for milk.

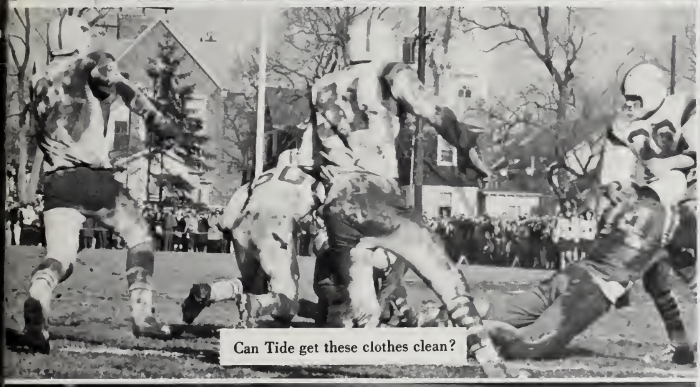
He was there a minute ago.

I could have danced all night but they kicked me off the stage

Some people will do anything to avoid paying for lunch.

The line-up

Duh ...



Can Tide get these clothes clean?

Tenor Tenore

I'd count it, Al

Basketball ballet.

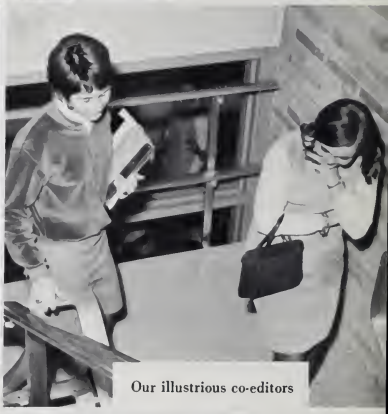
Where's Don?

The Pepsi generation

Bill, You have sexy legs

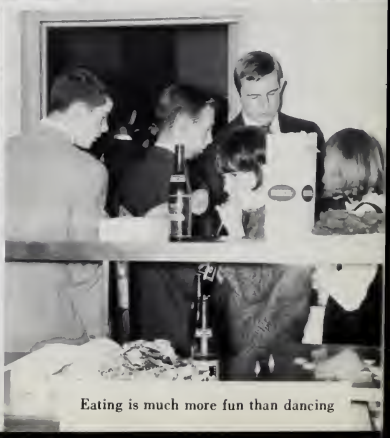
Gypsy Rose Young

My deal!!

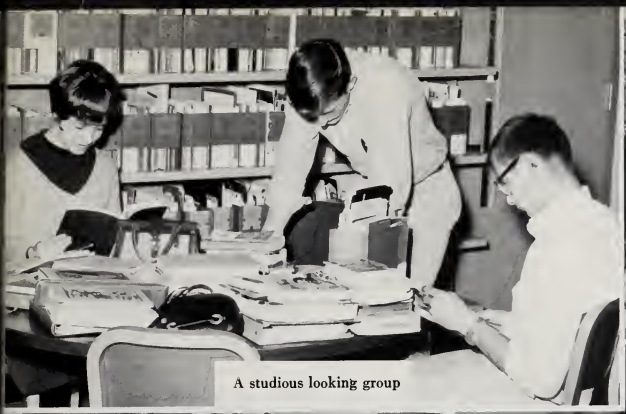


Our illustrious co-editors

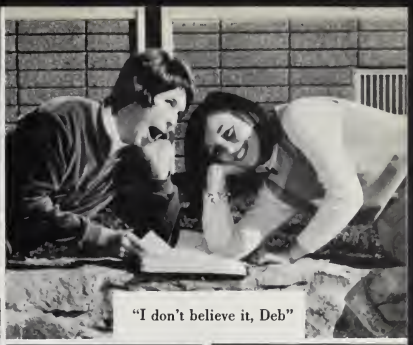
I'm new here. Can you tell me how to get to the office?



Eating is much more fun than dancing



A studious looking group



"I don't believe it, Deb"

Concentration

Do all great artists start this way?

Hot feet, Gerry?

Why are you looking at us?

Grin and bear it!

Thank Heaven I got the last Iceberg!

Bermuda Legs 1966

"The Spy Who Loved Me"

Is the food that bad, Windy?

All together 1-2-3
